

bringing their voices and their concerns here to Washington, DC, and urging my colleagues to work with me to focus on making their lives a little easier.

I am going to continue coming to work every day, asking, how do we help the people we all represent? How do we solve problems for everyone? And who is willing to work with me?

I yield the floor.

The Senator from New York.

Mr. SCHUMER. Mr. President, before the HELP staff leaves, I just want to thank all of you and, of course, Chair MURRAY for the amazing job you have done in the last 2 years. I know that many of you will continue working to continue to help people with their health, their education, and their labor policies. But it has been a great 2 years for the Senate, and it couldn't have been done without PATTY's leadership and your great staffing of that committee. So thank you all.

I suggest the absence of a quorum.

The PRESIDENT pro tempore. The clerk will call the roll.

The senior assistant legislative clerk proceeded to call the roll.

Mr. MENENDEZ. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that the order for the quorum call be rescinded.

The ACTING PRESIDENT pro tempore. Without objection, it is so ordered.

NOMINATION OF LYNNE M. TRACY

Mr. MENENDEZ. Mr. President, I come to the floor today to highlight the importance of the confirmation vote on Lynne Tracy, our nominee to be Ambassador to Russia.

Today, on the 300th day of Putin's heinous, unjustified war against Ukraine, I am humbled that we will welcome President Zelenskyy to address Congress later tonight. As President Zelenskyy will no doubt underscore, Putin's war is one of the greatest challenges we face today.

Putin is targeting Ukrainian civilians. He is bombing their electricity grid and their water supplies as winter sets in. That is, in essence, from my perspective, a war crime.

We haven't seen anything like this in Europe since the Second World War. Ukrainians are fighting for their lives, for their freedom, for the future of their country and their children. But even as Putin presses forward with this brutal war, the United States needs an Ambassador who can represent us in Moscow, and that is why we need Ambassador Lynne Tracy to assume her post without delay.

She is a career diplomat with an exceptional record of leadership and public service. She has the courage to carry out her duties in the face of a hostile government and represent America beyond the Kremlin walls, and she has the experience to lead the mission in one of the most challenging and difficult places our diplomats work today.

Our personnel in Moscow are braving harsh conditions, separation from their families, and are largely cut off from the world—all to serve their country, to serve Americans who need them.

And in spite of that, we have diplomats who are raising their hands saying: Send me. Ambassador Tracy is one of them.

Our Nation needs a strong voice to stand up for our values. From the larger Russian public, many of whom feel isolated and betrayed by their leader's war of aggression, to the American detainees who Putin still holds in his prisons, to the Russian opposition activists who are fighting for a different way forward in Russia, Ambassador Tracy will not shy away from confronting Putin's abuses. America needs her in her post. Europe needs her in her post. Ukraine needs her in her post. So I urge this body to confirm Ambassador Tracy today.

I yield the floor.
